Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board of Canada

Code of Conduct

Updated: May 11, 2020

This document will be reviewed and updated on an annual basis by Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board of Canada by December 31 of the year following the last update.

The challenge of choice is moral and individual, but meaningful in a social context. For while personal morality is a paramount demand of faith, Islam envisions a social order which is sustained by the expectation of each individual's morally just conduct towards others. The function of ethics is to foster self-realization through giving of one's self, for the common good, in response to God's benevolent majesty.

– Aga Khan Development Network: An Ethical Framework

Code of Conduct

SUBSTANCE USE POLICY

1. Introduction

Recognizing the potential negative effects of alcohol and drugs, AKYSB's strategy will focus heavily on creating compassionate environments for all murids of the Imam including those who have health or social behaviours we would like to discourage. Substance use poses risks even (and, in some material instances, especially) when there is no addiction or "abuse".

We understand that individuals use harmful substances initially because they experience/perceive some benefit from them, including:

- To feel a sense of belonging
- Quick "happiness" or "enjoyment"
- To get their mind off of something distressing
- Changing the perception of environment without changing the environment, or
- Changing the perception of a symptom without changing its cause

2. Applicability

This policy applies to all participants of AKYSB programs, where participants are defined to include players, coaches, organizers, officials, team managers and team staff, administrators, volunteers, spectators, paid staff and contractors. This policy applies to the conduct of participants at any AKYSB activities, programs and events and includes conduct of members in activities in any way related to AKYSB and/or its members.

This policy does not contravene or supersede any federal or provincial law pertaining to the use of drugs and substances. Within the context of AKYSB programs, the stricter of either federal/provincial law or the policy statements contained herein will be adhered to.

3. Youth and Minors

Youth and minors (as defined by Canadian Law) are expected to comply with federal and provincial regulations pertaining to the use of drugs, alcohol, tobacco, and cannabis. Parents and legal guardians are expected to be informed on this policy.

4. Code of Conduct

Any participant found to be in possession of a contraband substance will work collaboratively with AKYSB and Health Board Members to include/integrate, help, and protect murids of the Imam who are exposed to risks of substance use.

Code of Conduct

Where applicable, all program related sites including gaming venues and hotels must be respected as per the site requirements.

For the purposes of this policy, the following are prohibited:

1. Possession and/or consumption of alcohol, illicit drugs, performance enhancing substances, cannabis, electronic cigarettes and/or vaporizers.
 1. Sports venues, program related functions, institutional events are for fostering jamati unity, healthy activity, and community enjoyment. In the interests of achieving these ends and out of respect for the values of our faith community, such events and all related venues must be kept free of the possession or use of harmful substances as defined by this policy
2. Distribution of drugs
 1. The distribution of all drugs, including prescription drugs, is strictly forbidden at all programs, including gaming and sports venues, program related activities (i.e. banquets, awards ceremonies), offsite program venues, and program sponsored residential venues (i.e. hotels)

5. Therapeutic Use

*Note that this section applies only to overnight events.

AKSYB recognizes that some substances are used for therapeutic use. Accordingly, a therapeutic use exemption (TUE) may be made for those participants with medical history demonstrating the need for regular use of such a drug. TUEs may be granted according to the following parameters:

- 1) Participants must apply for a TUE a minimum of 2 weeks prior to program participation, or as otherwise stated by the program regulations
- 2) TUE applications may require a personal statement, disclosure of the nature of drug use, and confirmation from a medical professional. The information contained in the TUE application will be kept private, as per the privacy policy of the Aga Khan Council for Canada.
- 3) TUEs will be approved at the discretion of AKYSB and/or its delegated members, and may be conditional on parameters to ensure safe use of a drug or substance

SPORTS CODE OF CONDUCT

1. Purpose

The purpose of this document is to outline the expectations of all participants in Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board (AKYSB) programs, including athletes, coaches, team members, volunteers and spectators. AKYSB sports programs are inclusive programs which value the safety and security of all participants (athletes, volunteers, and spectators) and tournament officials. This document is consistent and supportive of AKYSB's Fair Play Policy and the Aga Khan Development Network's (AKDN) Ethical Framework.

2. Fair Play

The over-arching principles of the Fair Play Policy include:

- ❖ Showing respect to all individuals
- ❖ Respecting the facility in which you play
- ❖ Showing self-control at all times
- ❖ Athletes should compete to the best of their ability within the limits of the rules.

All athletes will:

- ❖ Participate for the love and enjoyment of the game
- ❖ Play fair. Winning is without value if victory has been achieved unfairly or dishonestly
- ❖ Respect the efforts and abilities of their opponents because without them there would be no game
- ❖ Respect their team mates and do their best to be a true unified team player
- ❖ Respect all fellow athletes, captains, officials/referees, spectators, and organizers/administrators.
- ❖ Respect and play by the rules of the game. Make an effort to learn them, to understand the game better. It is just as important to understand the spirit of the rules. Rules are designed to make the game fun to play and fun to watch
- ❖ Play to Win. If you do not play to win, you are cheating your opponents, deceiving those who are watching, and also fooling yourself
- ❖ Accept Defeat with Dignity. Nobody wins all the time. Always lose graciously. Congratulate the winners with grace. Good losers earn more respect than bad winners

Code of Conduct

3. Zero Tolerance

AKYSB has a zero tolerance policy on acts of misconduct (refer to section IV of the General Code of Conduct) including, but not limited to, physical and verbal abuse, violence, possession or consumption of alcohol, and possession or use of drugs including cannabis. This policy is designed to protect participants and other users of the program facilities from aggressive behavior, and uphold a conduct that demonstrates respect for fellow athletes, participants, and organizers.

3.1. Acts of Misconduct

The following acts of misconduct will be subject to immediate discipline at the discretion of AKYSB and the program organizers.

Any team deemed to have participated in a bench brawl will be subject to the following at a minimum, regardless of how many people from the bench were involved:
 - i) Entire team disqualified from their current game
 - ii) Entire team disqualified from their next game
 - iii) If the bench brawl occurred in the team's final/last game of the tournament, then every player on the team must sit out for the entire first day of the following year's tournament, even if they are on different teams in the following year's tournament

3.2. Reporting Incidents

All participants should avoid any unsafe behavior. If a participant witnesses any hostile behavior between individuals, including arguments or fights, it is incumbent on them to report the altercation to the volunteers.

Any situation that causes harm to an individual, the facility, or equipment should also be brought to the attention of the volunteers. In case of an emergency, call 911.

Disciplinary measures will be decided and enforced at the discretion of the AKYSB and its delegates. Failure of any player(s), coach(es), or team(s) to comply with the disciplinary measures in the aforementioned circumstances will result in indefinite suspension from the tournament.

Additional safety and/or disciplinary actions, like removal from the facility, may be taken on a case-by-case basis, for each individual, depending on the circumstance. Appendix E –
Camp Code of Conduct for Staff

Code of Conduct

CAMP CODE OF CONDUCT FOR STAFF

[Program Name] takes pride in all it does to ensure that the participants who come have a safe, secure, and memorable summer. You, our staff, are key to making this happen. More than that, you represent a Shia Ismaili Muslim Jamati Institution in everything you say and do during camp, as well as after camp. The code of conduct below outlines your responsibilities, the Zero Tolerance Policy, and guidelines on how to interact with participants during camp and after camp.

During your time at [Program Name], please ensure that your words, actions, and overall behaviour are driven by four ethical standards: Care, Respect, Trust, and Integrity.

1. Responsibilities

1.1. Supervision

Staff members are responsible for the safety, security and overall well-being of the participants during the program.

1.2. Professionalism

- 1) Staff must behave professionally at all times. If you have a conflict with another staff member, please consult with a member of the senior staff and resolve the situation in private. Participants should not witness any disputes or disagreements among staff members.
- 2) Absences/Lateness: You are expected to be at camp and ready to work according to the times discussed at training. If you know you are going to be late or absent for circumstances out of your control, you must let a senior staff member know as soon as possible.
- 3) Staff will exercise confidentiality if and when sensitive information is shared about participants and fellow staff members. Exception to this policy is if a participant discloses information that threatens their safety and well-being.
- 4) Appropriate language is required and expected at all times.
- 5) Staff is expected to dress appropriately for the program.

Code of Conduct

- 6) Mobile devices should not distract you from your responsibilities. They should only be used should your role consists of access to a mobile phone.

1.3. Safety

It is your duty to ensure safety of all participants and be aware of anything that might compromise their well-being. You will be expected to enact the 4 R's. Recognize, Respond, Report, and Reflect.

- ❖ Recognize (or anticipate) that there is a situation requiring your attention
- ❖ Respond to the situation using strategies discussed during training
- ❖ Report the situation to a senior staff member as soon as possible
- ❖ Reflect on how the situation unfolded and the role you played

1.4. Fulfillment of Assigned Tasks

All duties assigned to you by a senior staff member must be completed in a timely manner. If you are uncomfortable or unsure of any directions that are given to you, please express your concerns to a senior staff member as soon as possible.

1.5. Use of Facility and Program Materials

- 2) Surrounding nature and the program site must be protected at all times.
- 3) Safety precautions must be taken during all sporting activities. Life jackets must be worn during water sports and a lifeguard must be present during all water activities.

2. Zero Tolerance Policy

At [Program Name], we have a Zero Tolerance Policy for illegal behaviors, inappropriate behaviors, and those that endanger others. This policy will be in effect during the program, including formal camp events associated with the program (e.g. staff socials). In the event that a staff member is found engaging in behaviors provided below, they will be asked to leave the program at their own expense.

Code of Conduct

- ❖ Verbal or physical abuse of participant, participant families, or staff members.
- ❖ Possession and/or use of alcohol, tobacco, drugs, and illegal substances.
- ❖ Possession and/or use of weapons, sharp harmful objects, and offensive material.
- ❖ Intimate or sexual behavior with fellow staff members during camp.
- ❖ Intimate or sexual behavior with participants.
- ❖ Vandalism or the intentional destruction of property/equipment.
- ❖ Theft of any kind from participants, staff, or the camp facilities.

3. Interactions with Participants during and after end of camp

As a staff member for Camp Discovery, you are a representative of the Shia Ismaili Muslim Jamati Institution. You serve as a role model to the children who encounter you during the program, as well as after the program. There are situations, activities, and actions where staff members should exercise caution. Even though there are good intentions, staff needs to consider the implications and appearance of their behaviour.

3.1. Examples of behaviors to avoid during and after end of camp

- 1) Meeting with participants alone, isolated from observers (eg. behind closed doors), or without informing other staff about the meeting.
- 2) Inviting participants to their home or to meet privately elsewhere.
- 3) Exchanging personal notes, comments, or e-mails.
- 4) Becoming personally involved in participant's affairs.
- 5) Giving personal gifts to participants.
- 6) Unnecessary physical contact.

Code of Conduct

3.2. Sharing your personal opinions during and after end of camp

Participants may inquire about complex topics such as sexuality, consumption of alcohol, fasting, dasond etc. Defer questions of this nature to a Jamati scholar (e.g. local STEP teacher) who will be able to respond with appropriate Tariqa knowledge.

3.3. Communication over social media during and after end of camp

Electronic communication encompasses social media and other messaging forms that enable users to interact, create, share and communicate information online. For example, electronic communication includes, but is not limited to, messaging or video chat software, websites, apps, email, texting and blogging. It also includes social media networking platforms such as Facebook, Twitter and YouTube. Electronic communication and social media create new opportunities for extending and enhancing the relationship you've built with participants during camp. However, as the number of communication forms increase, so does the chance of an unintentional mistake.

- 1) If you do choose to add participants to your social media platforms, be mindful of your posts and the effect it can have on impressionable young minds who view you as a role model in the Shia Ismaili Muslim Community.
- 2) When exchanging electronic communication with participants, exercise caution because these messages are permanent and can be tracked, misdirected, and manipulated. Proceed with your exchange as if it was in the presence of the participant's family. Below are some examples of behaviors that should be avoided while interacting with participants over social media:
 - ❖ Intimate or sexual texting with participants.
 - ❖ Communicating during late night hours.
 - ❖ Using comprisable language, such as profanity.
 - ❖ Criticizing participants, family members, or fellow staff.
 - ❖ Posting or forwarding content, links or comments that might be considered offensive, discriminatory, or inconsistent with being a positive role model.

Code of Conduct

Code of Conduct

VOLUNTEER AND STAFF RECORD CHECK POLICY

* Please note that this policy has been modified for the requirements of the Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board for Canada. (February 2018)

1. Application

This Policy applies to all volunteers and staff of the Aga Khan Council for Canada (the “CFC”), the Ismaili Tariqah and Religious Education Board for Canada, and their respective regional or subsidiary Councils, Boards and Portfolios (collectively, the “Institutions”).

2. Purpose

The purpose of this Policy is to ensure that all volunteers and staff of the Institutions who interact with children and other vulnerable persons have first been properly screened.

3. Background/Introduction

The Institutions provide services, programs and activities to children, the elderly, and other vulnerable persons in the Jamat. The Institutions take the safety of their program participants and the Jamat extremely seriously and consequently must be careful about screening and selecting its volunteers and staff members.

While this document focuses on record check policies and procedures, all Councils, Boards and Portfolios forming part of the Institutions must ensure that the overall screening and selection of volunteers and staff is conducted in accordance with general non-profit industry standards and, in particular, the “Ten Steps to Screening” protocol outlined in the Best Practice Guidelines for Screening Volunteers published by Public Safety Canada (referenced in the Key Relevant Documents section below).

4. Policy

- 1) For the purposes of this Policy:

Code of Conduct

- a) “child”: is defined as anyone under age 18; and
 - b) “vulnerable person” is a person who, because of his or her age, a disability, or other circumstances, whether temporary or permanent: (a) is in a position of dependency on others; or (b) is otherwise at a greater risk than the general population of being harmed by a person in a position of trust or authority towards them. A position of trust or authority is created when an individual’s relationship with someone else contains any of the following characteristics: decision-making power, unsupervised access, closeness inherent in the relationship, or personal nature of the activity undertaken.
- 2) Each position within the Institutions must be described in relation to the risks inherent to participating children and vulnerable adults. Position descriptions are to set out specific conditions and responsibilities of volunteers and staff, including the type of participant with whom the volunteer or staff member occupying the position will be working.
 - 3) All positions within the Institutions are to be ranked according to the nature and degree of risk to which participants can be exposed through the delivery of services by volunteers and staff members in the position.
 - a) Low risk: minimal or no contact with children and/or vulnerable persons, no characteristics of trust or authority.
 - b) Medium risk: supervised contact with children and/or vulnerable persons, no characteristics of trust or authority.
 - c) High risk: unsupervised contact with children and/or vulnerable persons, and/or existence of characteristics of trust or authority.
 - 4) Police check screening protocol for each position is to be determined by the applicable Council, Board or Portfolio, and is to be proportional to assessed risk factor of the volunteer position. The following should serve as a guideline for the level of police check that must be completed:
 - a) For Medium risk positions, a criminal record check (“CRC”) must be completed. A CRC verifies whether an individual has a criminal record.
 - b) For High risk positions, a police vulnerable sector check (“VSC”) must be completed. A VSC is an enhanced criminal record check, and verifies whether an individual has a criminal record, as well as whether he/she has any record suspensions for sexual offences. A VSC check may involve more intrusive methods of collecting information, such as fingerprinting.

Code of Conduct

The above is not intended to be entirely determinative, and, as an example, a Council, Board or Portfolio may determine that VSC is still appropriate for a volunteer in a Medium risk position.

- 5) Council, Board and Portfolio presidents or chairpersons must ensure that all volunteers and staff members in positions requiring a CRC or VSC have submitted a check. Each volunteer in a position requiring a CRC or VSC must redo the check every three years that they are in that position. A previously completed CRC or VSC may be used for a future position for up to a maximum of five (3) years from the date of the original check, following which a new check must be completed as the (3) year period lapses.
- 6) If a volunteer or staff member is active in more than one position, they must be screened for the position where the level of risk to children or vulnerable persons is the highest.
- 7) If a volunteer or staff member changes positions, the relevant Council, Board or Portfolio must ensure that the screening used for the previous position is appropriate for the new one. If not, then the volunteer or staff member must be screened again for the new position.
- 8) Council, Board and Portfolio leads must forward all checks to the CFC Secretariat for safe-keeping.
- 9) The CFC Secretariat must retain checks of unsuccessful applicants for a period of 2 years; and will retain checks of successful applicants for a period of 7 years. When these periods are up, the CFC Secretariat will dispose of the checks safely and securely.
- 10) All persons in control of information, documentation, and materials created in the screening process, including CRCs and VSCs (“personal information”) must maintain good privacy practices. This means taking reasonable precautions to protect and safeguard private information, and to secure it from inappropriate access, use, and disclosure. Paper-based information may be stored in secured offices or external secured storage facilities. Electronic information may be stored in secured computer systems with secured back-ups generally stored off-site. It may be appropriate to have various levels of security in place to safeguard personal information, including physical safeguards, administrative safeguards, and technical safeguards.

Code of Conduct

11) It is the responsibility of volunteers and staff members obtaining a CRC or VSC to cover the costs of doing so. Some jurisdictions provide police record checks for free or for a reduced cost for volunteer organizations. If an applicant is unable to pay the costs, then the applicable Council, Board or Portfolio should endeavour to find alternate means for payment. The cost of a check should not be a barrier to a volunteer or staff member obtaining a position for which they are otherwise qualified.

5. Procedure for Obtaining Police Checks

The procedure below is an example process, and the exact process may vary by province or region. Each Council, Board and Portfolio should work with the applicable Regional Legal Member to establish an exact process for the applicable region.

- 1) The responsible Council, Board or Portfolio provides an official letter to the applicant with the following information:
 - a) The name and address of the Council, Board or Portfolio requiring the check;
 - b) A description of the volunteer position;
 - c) The reason for the screening and who the applicant will be working with (children, elders, disabled people, etc.)
 - d) A statement that the applicant will not be paid for his/her work nor compensated for his/her expenses.

- 2) In some regions, the Council, Board or Portfolio may be able to apply for a check through an online system. If not, the applicant applies to the police service in the area where he or she resides. In most police jurisdictions, the applicant will go directly to the local police service to complete the CRC or VSC request forms. He or she should be prepared to provide:
 - a) The official letter from the Board or Portfolio lead;
 - b) Two pieces of personal identification;
 - c) Payment for any applicable fee; and

Code of Conduct

- d) Information such as his or her full name, date of birth, gender, mailing address, phone number, email address, home addresses for the past 5 years, and the reason for the application
- 3) The check will be provided to the applicant and/or directly to the Board, Council or Portfolio. If the applicant receives the VSC or CRC, they should be asked to forward it to the Council, Board or Portfolio lead.
- 4) Standards for Disqualification: Candidates for employment and volunteer positions will not be considered if:
 - a) They are registered on the Vulnerable Sector Screening;
 - b) There is criminal conviction of any kind in the past five years; or,
 - c) If there is a conviction of a crime involving: the victimization of children and youth, violence toward another person, trafficking of illegal substances, criminal activity involving children and youth, and other activity that would impair the person's ability to be presented as a positive role model.
 - d) If there is a conviction for a crime other than those listed in the previous point that is older than five years, the please refer to point 6 below for the review and approval process taking into account the relevance to the work of the individual and its potential impact on the organization and make a determination whether to decline engagement of the individual with the work of the organization.
 - e) As per section 6 below, a candidate may be disqualified if any information is presented that is deemed to put the program participants at risk. This decision will be determined by the Regional Legal Member and National Legal Member, in consultation with the relevant Council, Board or Portfolio leads and other relevant stakeholders.
- 5) All employees and volunteers have the continuing obligation to report any incidents that happen while they are employed or volunteering with the Institutions that would be disclosed on a subsequent screening. Failure to report such incidents may result in dismissal.
- 6) If there is a question as to whether or not the applicant is appropriate for the position based on the results, the matter should be referred to the Regional Legal

Code of Conduct

Member in the relevant region, and the National Legal Member. In such a situation, the Regional Legal Member and National Legal Member, in consultation with the relevant Council, Board or Portfolio leads and other relevant stakeholders, will make and document a decision regarding whether or not the applicant will be permitted to take on the position. Such decisions will be kept in a repository by the National Legal Member and shall be used as a precedent for future decision making.

- 7) The Council, Board or Portfolio lead passes the VSC or CRC on to the CFC Secretariat for safekeeping.

Purpose of This Initiative

Together, our institutions and our volunteers provide wonderful services and programs to our Jamat. Many members, whom we cater to, are vulnerable persons¹, such as children² and the elderly. In rendering services to them, our volunteers are constantly put in positions of trust or authority. It is therefore, of utmost importance for us to ensure the safety of our Jamat while rendering these services.

This means taking precautionary measures when selecting volunteers and staff members. To that end, effective this year, the Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board for Canada, has introduced a volunteer and staff police record check policy as part of its recruitment process.

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that all volunteers of our institution, who interact with children and other vulnerable persons, have first been properly screened. As you may be aware, this is a standard policy that is in practice in most non-profit organizations as per best practices outlined by the Government of Canada.

You, our volunteers, are the backbone of our institutions and of the Jamat. We need your support to effectively implement this policy, which will protect and ensure the safety of all who are involved. However, it is important to understand that we respect and value the immense services rendered by you and this policy, in no way, undermines your position as volunteers of our Jamat.

¹ Vulnerable persons are those who are in a position of dependence on others (such as children or people with disabilities) or who are at a higher than normal risk of being harmed by an authority figure.

² Children are defined as being anyone under the age of 18.

Frequently Asked Questions

What are the types of police record checks available?

There are two types of police record checks that the institution can request from a volunteer applicant. This is dependent on the degree of contact the volunteer position demands with vulnerable persons and the risk thereof to the same.

Criminal Record Check (CRC): Verifies whether an individual has a criminal record.

Vulnerable Sector Check (VSC): An enhanced criminal record check, that verifies whether an individual has a criminal record, as well as whether he/she has any record suspensions for sexual offences. A VSC check may involve more intrusive methods of collecting information, such as fingerprinting.

Who requests a police record check?

It is the responsibility of the Council, Board or Portfolio Lead to request a police record check and more specifically, the type of record check (CRC or VSC).

Who conducts a record check?

Record checks must be conducted by the local Canadian police service where an applicant resides or by an authorized body.

What is the frequency of renewal for record checks?

Each volunteer in a position requiring a CRC or VSC must redo the check every 3 years that they are in that position.

Can I use the results of a police record check for more than one position?

If a volunteer changes positions, the relevant Council, Board or Portfolio Lead will ensure that the screening used for the previous position is appropriate for the new one. If not, the volunteer must be screened again for the new position.

Moreover, a previously completed CRC or VSC may be used for a future position for up to a maximum of 3 years from the date of the original check, following which a new check must be completed as the 3-year period lapses.

Who can get a vulnerable sector check?

People who want to apply for a volunteer position that puts them in positions of trust or authority over children or vulnerable persons can be asked to obtain a vulnerable sector check.

Who is accountable for covering the cost of the police record check?

Accountability of cost will vary with the portfolio under which the volunteer position falls. However, the cost of the check will in no way be an impediment to the volunteer obtaining a position for which he/she is otherwise qualified.

What happens if the record check is unsatisfactory?

An applicant will not be considered for a volunteer position if:

1. He/she is registered on the Vulnerable Sector Screening;
2. There is criminal conviction of any kind in the past 5 years;
or,
3. There is a conviction of a crime involving:
 - the victimization of children and youth,
 - violence toward another person,
 - trafficking of illegal substances,
 - criminal activity involving children and youth, and
 - other activity that would impair the person's ability to be presented as a positive role model.

If there is a conviction for a crime other than those listed above that is older than 5 years or if there is a question as to whether or not the applicant is appropriate for the position, the Regional Legal Member and National Legal Member, in consultation with the relevant Council, Board or Portfolio Lead, will decide whether or not the applicant will be permitted to take on the position.

What happens to the information provided in the police record check?

The Council, Board or Portfolio Lead passes the VSC or CRC on to the Council for Canada (CFC) Secretariat for safekeeping. Record checks of unsuccessful applicants will be retained for a period of 2 years. Those of successful applicants will be retained for a period of 7 years. When these periods are up, the CFC Secretariat will dispose of the checks safely and securely.

How do I know my information will be kept confidential?

All persons in control of information, documentation, and materials created in the screening process, including CRCs and VSCs (“personal information”), must maintain good privacy practices as per the policy. This means that reasonable precautions will be taken to protect and safeguard private information, and to secure it from inappropriate access, use, and disclosure.

Precautionary measures involve putting in place various levels of security including physical safeguards, administrative safeguards, and technical safeguards.

What is a Pledge of Confidentiality?

Our volunteers may come into contact confidential information (oral, written or otherwise) during the course of their engagement in the program. This form asks that the volunteer pledge keep this information confidential to protect both the participant and the volunteer as well.

This pledge form should be signed by the volunteer when they are in a position to gain access to private and sensitive information, especially if they are working directly with youth and/or vulnerable individuals.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board which falls under the Ismaili Council for Canada, organizes various initiatives throughout the year for youth within the Ismaili Muslim community. These include but are not limited to, sports leagues, mentorship, and other leadership and engagement programs.

One such national initiative is <<Camp Mosaic, a week-long program that takes place each year. This program is designed for youth aged 10 to 13 and allows for an opportunity to develop their leadership skills, self-confidence and understanding of Islam within a collaborative team environment. >>

In order to provide the best experience in the most affordable way, our institution relies heavily on our volunteers to serve as counselors for the camp. No profit is made from our programming and neither are volunteers compensated for their services.

This year, _____, has been selected to volunteer for the Board as a Camp Counselor. He/she will be responsible for a group of 5 participants and will be working closely with them to ensure their safety and the completion of activities in a fulfilling manner.

On behalf of the Aga Khan Youth and Sports Board for Canada, I therefore, request a Vulnerable Sector Check for the above-mentioned volunteer. I would like to thank you for your support with this request.
